a grape harvest weekend of nature, taste, touch, movement and meaningful connections

WISDOM WALK X  Planetir

Mesa Misteriosa

HARVEST . RETREAT . LONG TABLE

Set in the heart of Portugal's grape harvest season, this weekend invites you to taste, touch, and feel your way into nature's wisdom.

A long table is set, and no one yet knows quite what will unfold around it.

The time of harvest has always carried deep meaning. We gather in community to celebrate the land and give thanks for its abundance. We journey into our own mysteries, uncovering what's ripe and ready within.

Nature is our teacher.

Embodiment, conscious relating, real harvesting and shared ritual are the doorways in: each one offering another way to open up our senses and receive what she has to offer.

SOME FLAVOURS WE USE

Root Down Deep — slowing down with nature until our heartbeat finds the pulse of the earth beneath us.

The Body Remembers — embodiment and somatic movement journeys that let us feel the elements as living qualities in our own body, not just ideas.

Coming Closer — partner practices, contact improvisation principles, and connection games to meet ourselves and each other with wonder, love, and presence.

Nature Rituals — an earth altar, the blind garden, shared readings: small acts of ceremony woven through the weekend, each one a portal into presence.

Hands in the Vine — working side by side in the vineyard, gathering the season's sweetness.

The Feast — a long table inspired by Dionysos and the Eleusinian mysteries, where we share stories and savor what's been cultivated — in ourselves, between us, and with the land.

Dancing the Fire — a ritual dance journey to celebrate our own fire and claim what we've become.

FACILITATORS

MERVE PURDE

Merve is the founder of Wisdom Walk, creating land-based journeys that weave together movement, contemplative practice, and meaningful encounters with nature and culture.

With a background in experience design and a lifelong relationship with movement, her work draws from somatic movement, contact improvisation, contemplative practice, and trauma-sensitive approaches to embodiment.

Years of learning across different wisdom traditions, from Buddhist meditation in the Himalayas to Tantric traditions in India, Andean cosmology in Peru, and indigenous communities across Latin America, continue to shape her work.

For over a decade, returning to the olive harvest each season has deepened her relationship with the rhythms of the land and continues to inspire the journeys she creates.

Rather than teaching a single method, Merve creates spaces where people can slow down, listen more deeply, and reconnect with themselves, one another, and the living world through direct experience.

JOSCHA RAUE

Joscha is founding partner of Planetir and space holder inspired by a vision of human and planetary flourishing.

He believes in the power of authentic human connection, ecosystems, and timeless wisdom to expand our capacity for real change.

For more than a decade his own path has led him through many modalities. He finds Tantra to be the most powerful doorway into awakening and cultivating deeper intimacy with life itself — a depth he now brings into how he leads and builds in the world.

He's passionate about creating spaces of warmth, safety, and loving presence, where people can show up fully — and witness what becomes possible when we come together this way.

ABOUT ZEN FOREST

Set among tall pines, Zen Forest offers a quiet, held space for this journey into mystery. Its stillness is its own kind of teacher — birdsong, wind moving through the trees, stars overhead around a fire at night.

It's a place that invites us to slow down and dream a little. And beneath the quiet, one thing is certain: in this enchanted forest you will feel right at home.
